Dear Parent/Guardian,

We recognize that your family may be impacted by the current school closure. As you try to navigate this national health crisis and all the implications it may mean for your family, and try to maintain some normalcy with your children, we want to be a resource to you and your children.

During the unprecedented national emergency of the COVID-19 pandemic, educational learning for all students in the Coeur d'Alene School District is being provided through an alternate mode of "remote learning." This is not only a change for students with disabilities but a change for all students, and the District is doing its best to develop innovative solutions. 504 Plan accommodations will be followed to the extent that is reasonable under these unusual conditions, including such strategies as shortened assignments and extended time frames for completion of assignments. Remote learning will create space for students to take advantage of their accommodations of this nature. Please be aware that you have the right to request a meeting to address a 504 accommodation at any time.

Please also be aware that the District will not be holding annual review meetings on 504 accommodations while the school building closures are in effect and will not be rescheduling those upon return to normal operations. The District will postpone and reschedule three-year evaluations and meetings to address the educational placement of students. 504 plans that expire during the school closure will remain valid until they can be rescheduled when school buildings reopen.

If you have any questions or concerns about your child's 504 plan or if we can assist you in any other way, please don't hesitate to reach out to your child's 504 case manager.

Thank you,

Kate Keinert
