

February 8, 2019

Hello,

Tonight is the Borah Loves Reading Event – I hope you can attend! It is a very fun event complete with crafts, food, and a photo booth.

Next Thursday, February 14 is Valentine's Day. We won the most improved attendance award for the month of January so...we get a pizza party. ☺ I would like to combine the party with a kindness celebration at lunch on Valentine's Day. I will provide a beverage and dessert for the party. If your child wants to bring Valentine/Kindness cards, there must be a card for every child in our room. We are focusing on kindness to all so please don't bring a gift for one specific child – such as teddy bears, balloons, etc. If a child brings an extra gift it will be taken to the office and given to the recipient after school. Thanks for your understanding on this matter.

We are very busy learning about the Lewis and Clark Expedition. We are including art, technology, and even PE in our learning. We are also doing a lot of reading and writing in this unit. Next week I will send home information about the upcoming exhibition to showcase our learning.

Our math skills are improving as we continue to learn more about multiplication, division, and word problems. We are steadily working our way into the lovely world of fractions.

Please note there will be no new spelling lists for the next couple of weeks.

Don't forget about reading minutes and those pesky multiplication facts!

Have a wonderful week!

Report cards were sent home last Friday – I have only received a few signatures letting me know the report card was in fact received. If you haven't already, please sign and verify that you received a copy of your child's first semester report card.
